

JAMES R. KEENE WINS RICH STAKE

His Colt Hilarious Is Victorious in Classic Withers for Three-Year-Olds.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NEW YORK, May 22.—James R. Keene won his first rich stake event of the season to-day, when his colt Hilarious, by Voter-Harpachord, was victorious in the classic Withers for three-year-olds at a mile, in the most impressive fashion.

It turned out that Hilarious had worked a mile at the bay for the event in 1:40 flat with a 125-pound boy on his back, and Trainer Howe, as a result, said that if the colt could run in the mud he would come home alone. This prediction was verified, for Hilarious, a trifle slow to leave the barrier, rushed to the front in the first quarter of a mile, and after that he was in no danger of being overhauled. He came down the long home stretch well in hand, and galloped past the judges with four lengths to lead in 1:41.5.

S. C. Hildreth's Joe Madden, by Yankee-Tarantella, outfooted J. B. Madden's Fayette, by Ogden-Saratoga Belle in the run home, and beat the latter by three lengths for the place. Madden said before the race that Fayette would probably be handicapped by the going, and he evidently spoke by the ear.

Mr. Keene braved the wintry weather to see his colt win, and was well pleased with the result. Hilarious picked up $11,070 for his popular owner, and will be strongly regarded for future three-year-old stakes.

In addition to the Withers, the Whitely memorial steeplechase at about two and one-half miles was a feature, even though there were only three starters. Robert Neville's Sir Wooster, one of the best jumpers in the country, was an easy winner. For nearly two miles he led behind Kentucky Beau and Grandpa, and then Davidson cut him loose. He rushed into the lead readily, and thereafter it was only a gallop for him, although he hesitated at the last jump. Kentucky Beau was an easy second.

CLUBS SIGN AFFIDAVITS.
Virginia League Teams Must Live Up to $1750 Salary Agreement.

In order to comply with the constitution of the league, all of the teams of the Virginia League were required to return sworn affidavits to President Wells yesterday setting forth that their total salary list does not exceed $1750 a month. The teams are allowed to carry twelve players, and the owners of their respective teams have thirteen players on the roll. Richmond has that number, with four pitchers and one catcher.

President Wells will make every effort to make the teams live up to the salary agreement. He has already addressed letters to the players requiring them to state whether or not they receive any money from the owners of their respective teams other than their salaries.

It has been reported that some of the teams have been unable to get within the salary limit unless they have some of their present players and carry only three pitchers. It is known that one or two of the teams have some exceptionally high-salaried players.

VIRGINIA BOAT CLUB IS PREPARING FOR REGATTA

Old Dominion Club, of Alexandria, and Analostan Club, of Washington, Are Invited to Race Local Eight-Oared Crew in July.

Plans are being perfected for a fine regatta season at the Virginia Boat Club. The regular club regatta will be held in July, in which a crew from the Old Dominion Club of Alexandria, and the Analostan Club, of Washington, and, though no definite answer has yet been received, it is reasonably certain that one or the other will be here, possibly both. These regattas have become so popular with the club members and with the people who have witnessed them, that they are looked forward to as one of the principal athletic and social events of the summer in Richmond.

The new eight-oared shell, recently received, was launched last week, and was found satisfactory in every respect. She is light, stiff and fast, and if the Virginia crew fails to land the race, it will be no fault of the boat.

The weather has not been propitious for boating up to this time, but now that the warm weather has set in, it is expected that the boatouse will be crowded every evening with members, many of whom are aspirants for crew honors while others indulge in lighter rowing with their women friends in the pleasure boats, or in canoeing, while still others amuse themselves with the less strenuous games of fishing and swimming and sailing.

That these sports are appreciated by the young men of the city is attested by the fact that the club membership has been full to the limit for several seasons, and applicants at present have to wait their turn for admission. The equipment of the club has kept up with the increase in the membership, and the Virginia Boat Club is among the largest and best equipped boat clubs in the country.

There is much speculation and interest manifested among the members as to who will be the fortunate ones to secure seats in the crew this season. Sidney Smith, John Christian, J. W. Johnson, Parke Thornton and E. M. Thomas, of last year's crew, will be out again this year, and among other aspirants who have been at work so far are Boslier, Hallett, Tyler, Watt, Gilliam, Wheat, Cluis, Parkins, Hlaw, Taylor, Wellford, Saville, Claiborne and quite a number of others.

A friend of the club has offered a silver cup and individual gold medals to the winning crew in the race to be held at the regatta in July.

The club now owns three eight-oared shells, and the races have been arranged for every week between picked crews from the applicants for the regular crew. The men who can make the best showing in these preliminary races will compose the crew to be selected later. Oscar L. Bowen is doing the preliminary coaching, and will have the men well broken in by the time Mr. Hecox, the club's regular coach for the past two seasons, arrives. He is expected to arrive here in June. The officers of the club at present are: President, Judge Beverly T. Crump; Vice-President, W. Gray Watson; Secretary, W. B. Claiborne; Treasurer, Charles R. Burnett; Captain, William E. Crawford; Mate, W. L. Gilliam, S. S. Smith and E. M. Thomas.
